A new year, with some fresh ideas

We start this new year with fresh minds and hearts. After a wonderful visit with my family in Oregon, I feel renewed energy. We started January with 55 children in attendance. We added another wave children in the first week of February and now have over 70 children enrolled at the preschool.

I'm busy planning the launch of an afterschool reading program with priority going to our preschool graduates. We want to continue our journey with them as they develop. Pray with us as we plan this new venture.
